

1 1.Sightseeing in Shizuoka Prefecture

Shizuoka Prefecture has been favored in its natural environment. Mountains, rivers, open plains, coastline, hot springs (onsen) and lakes. You are able to enjoy all these different sceneries throughout the four seasons.

Mt. Fuji changes drastically with the four distinct seasons. There are a number of beaches and onsens found along the coast of the Izu Peninsula. The Southern Alps is also a popular destination for nature lovers.

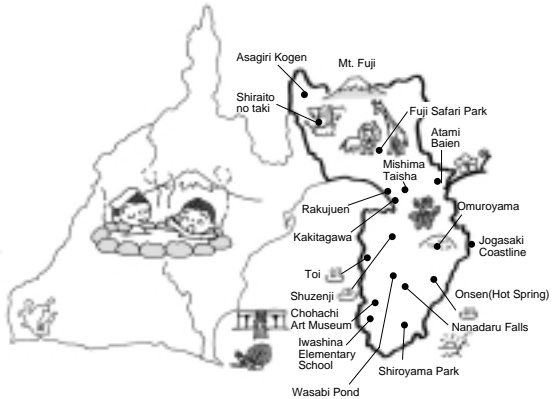

Rivers such as Fujikawa, Abekawa, Oikawa, and Tenryugawa flow throughout the prefecture, not to mention Lake Hamana in the west. There are numerous other popular historical sites such as the Shiraito Falls, Irozaki and Kunozan.

EASTERN SHIZUOKA

Eastern Shizuoka hosts a mild weather throughout the year. The area is home to numerous hot springs and the infamous Mt Fuji, not to mention the countless other sight seeing destinations. On the Western side of the Izu Peninsula are beautiful caves and landscaped areas including many lookout points in which Mt Fuji can be viewed from, or explored.

Atami Baien - Plum Viewing Garden (Atami City): Famous for the earliest plum blossoms in the country. You can enjoy plum blossom viewings from the middle of December. From the middle of January until the middle of March Atami Baien holds many Plum Blossom festivals.

Jyogasaki Coastline (Ito City): A breathtaking view of a 20 km long coastline. Numerous rare animals and native plants can be seen along a walking trail beside the coast.

Omuroyama -Sakura no Sato (Ito City): 35 different kinds of Cherry Blossoms totaling 3,000 trees can be viewed here. These can be viewed all year round due to the vast variety of cherry blossoms.

Onsen (hot springs) on the Eastern Coast of Izu Peninsula:

Okawa, Kitagawa, Atagawa, Inatori, Katase, Shirata, Imaihama, Nanadaru, Yugano, Mine, Yazu, Kawazuhama, Otaki, Shimoda and Rendaiji onsens are located in this area.

Shiroyama Koen (Park)(Shimoda City): This was the site of an old castle, but has now been turned into a nature park. You can see Shimoda Harbor and Inuso Jima (Island) from here. In this area there are about 30 million Hydrangeas that blossom in June, which is when the Hydrangea Festival is held.

Kawazu Nanadaru (Kawazu-Cho): Has seven different large and small waterfalls along the Kawazu River, namely, Odaki, Deaidaki, Kanidaki, Hakeidaki, Hebidaki and Kamadaki. In Kawazu-Cho there is an onsen (hot spring) village that gets its spring water from seven different hot springs, such as the Yugano Onsen.

Iwashina Elementary School (Matsuzaki-Cho): Was built in 1880, during the Meiji era, incorporating Namako walls from Western influence. Today, it is a local historical site and a cultural asset. The school is currently being used as the local museum open to public.

Chohachi Art Museum (Matsuzaki-Cho): Irie Chohachi the artist was born in this town and his artwork is displayed in this museum. The museum is built in a modern and unique style and is worth a look. The Namako Wall is well known for being covered in tiny tiles bonded together with plaster. It is still possible to see the Namako walls in various places around Matsuzaki-Cho.

Toi Onsen (Toi-Cho): This onsen was discovered in 1610 by gold diggers, which was flowing out through the rocks. It is the oldest onsen on the Western coast of Izu Peninsula.

Wasabi Ponds (Amagi Yugashima-Cho, Naka Izu-Cho): Natural clean water and fresh air makes high quality Wasabi. Izu Wasabi has the highest productivity rate in Japan.

Amagi Yugashima-Cho has a number of onsens located along the Kano River, which are referred to as " Amagi Onsen Kyo " .

Shuzenji Onsen, The Tokko Springs (Shuzenji): The Tokko springs is the symbol of Shuzenji onsen, flowing up from below the Katsura River, into this hot spring resort.

Rakujuen Park (Mishima City): Was built as a holiday house for Komatsunomiya and is now a national asset. Most of the Park is built on top of lava from Mt Fuji. The lava produces spots of fresh spring water straight from Mt Fuji.

Mishima Taisha Shrine (Mishima City): Is a major shrine in Izu. The sanctuary hall is built in Gongen style and is built solely out of Japanese Cypress.

Fuji Safari Park (Susono City): It is a safari park located at the foot of Mt.Fuji. Guests can observe the animals roaming free in the park from inside a safari bus.

Kakita River (Shimizu-Cho): Is made up of snow that has melted from Mt Fuji; the water is very clear and fresh, maintaining the same temperature year round, and the banks are home to many animals and plants.

Asagiri Kogen (plateau)(Fujinomiya City): It is a pasture on the western side of Mt Fuji. There is an auto camp equipped with open-air baths and hang gliding facilities.

Shiraito Falls (Fujinomiya City): The falls cascade off a 200meter wide cliff. The waterfall is called " Shiraito " because it looks like thin, white thread.

Lake Tanuki (Fujinomiya City): Is a man-made lake with a circumference of 4 km and only 8 meters in depth. It is famous for the inverted image of Mt Fuji that is reflected on the surface. There is a campsite near by.

Climbing Mt Fuji:

Challenge yourself by climbing Japan's highest mountain of 3,776 meters!

Mt. Fuji is open to the public for climbing, from 1st of July until 31st of August. In August when the sky is clear and the winds are calm, climbers from all over the country hike to the summit.

With proper equipment and a relaxed pace, climbing Mt Fuji can be a most enjoyable experience. There are three mountain climbing routes on the Shizuoka side of Mt Fuji. The Fujinomiya, Gotenba and Subashiri trails. By the Fujinomiya Trail, starting from Fujinomiya- entry, you can go up by car to the point of 2,400 meters above sea level. On the Gotenba trail, you can enjoy the dynamic sand chasm on the way down with a view of the Houei caldera, which looks like a gigantic bowl. There is also the Subashiri trail, starting from Subashiri- entry, where the ascending route and descending route are different from the 5th station up to the summit.

The estimated time required to ascend from the 5th station to the summit is 5-7 hours, and for descension it can take 2-3 hours, though it may differ according to the climbers' stamina and resting times.

Cautions for Climbing Mt. Fuji

The problems with climbing Mt Fuji include some atmospheric pressure - it is 2/3 that of normal air. Some people experience altitude sickness, dizziness and nausea due to this, so please take your time when climbing. Please stay on the footpaths provided. If you feel the weather is becoming unpredictable, please take shelter at the nearest mountain lodge. Please take your garbage home with you. Please treat the signposts and alpine flora with care.

Be sensible when deciding what to wear and what equipment to bring.

Clothing : Long sleeve shirt, long trousers, jacket and sweaters, a long brimmed hat (for protection from the sun), gloves and extra clothes (in case of rain) are recommended.

Shoes : Comfortable walking shoes or climbing shoes with thick socks are also a good idea.

Rain gear : Shirt and trousers that can be used for additional warmth are highly recommended.

Flashlight : You will need a torch and extra batteries if you will be climbing at night.

Others : Water bottle, towels, tissue paper, rubbish bags and extra food (for emergencies).
